Two historic buildings came crashing down as Traub Hall and Harmony Hall were demolished

AND THE WALLS CAME DOWN
Last Tuesday marked the removal of two of Didsbury's oldest buildings, Traub Hall and Harmony Hall. Crews worked all week demolishing the buildings and cleaning up the wreckage.

Crash! Boom! Bang!

Those were the noises to be heard last Tuesday afternoon as Traub Hall and Harmony Hall were demolished.

Crews from Columbia Rail did the demolition work, as officials from the Town of Didsbury and the local RCMP detachment watched on to make sure all went well.

The demolition took place at the request of the present landowner who wanted the two buildings torn down.

Robert Wigg, Planning and Development Officer for the Town of Didsbury, oversaw that demolition and says that it was about time.

He says that the old buildings have been a target for vandalism in the past number of years, as kids would light fires in them and even sometimes people would sleep in the buildings.

"The Town is quite happy to see the buildings demolished," said Wigg. "They had really turned into quite an eye sore over the past few years."

Wigg says that the landowner requested the demolition, which is his cost, because it became more economical for him, rather than fix the buildings up.

Wigg says that the increase in lot values in Didsbury will work in the landowner's favour, because if he wanted to, there is a potential to fit six to eight duplex-style buildings on the property, like those situated within the College Green residential area.

Wigg says that the property does not have to be developed as part of College Green, but says that it would be nice to have the same type of buildings, for aesthetic value.

The old buildings used to be part of Rocky Mountain College, which was situated where the College Green residential area is now.

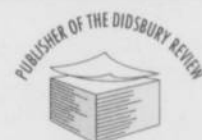

After the College moved out of town, the buildings were used for various purposes, like a restaurant and a residential home.

Traub Hall and Harmony Hall have not been used for anything at all since late 1994 or early 1995.

Olds/Didsbury Alberta Seniors Games hands out cheques

Olds/Didsbury Alberta Seniors Games Chair Mary Turner and Co-Chair Bill Cowan present to Mayors Norma Duncan and Ray Lea cheques for $32,000 and $22,000 respectively returning the financial contribution made by each of the towns in hosting the Alberta Seniors Games last summer.

The financial contribution was based on a per capita formula.

At the last Board of Directors meeting the Seniors Games directors voted to split the remaining surplus between the two host towns; Olds and Didsbury dedicating the use of these funds for amateur and or seniors activities, cultural pursuits, equipment or programs as outlined in the signed agreement with the Alberta Sport Recreation Parks and Wildlife Foundation, April, 1997.

Roy Brassard, Friends of the Games director estimates that each Town will receive close to $24,000 in addition to the return of the host contribution.

The Board of Directors are very pleased with the financial outcome of the Games; not only have we upgraded our facilities, we have a new highway between our towns, and a financial legacy for the citizens who collectively held the largest Alberta Seniors Games ever!

Projects announced

On March 22 Health and Wellness Minister Halvar Jonson announced funding for 33 projects through the Health Innovation Fund (HIF).

These 33 projects will receive a combined total of $7.2 million for 1999/2000.

"The Health Innovation Fund is a key government strategy aimed at encouraging health authorities and other providers to seek new and innovative ways of maintaining and improving the health of Albertans. These projects that are being announced today will support this goal," explained Jonson.

The HIF was outlined in last year's budget and is designed to help Regional Health Authorities and other health care providers deliver more effective and efficient health services. Last Fall, the Ministry announced the establishment of the HIF Advisory Committee under the chairmanship of former Deputy Treasurer Al O'Brien.

The Committee provided advice on administration of the fund, monitored the application process, reviewed the merits of the project proposals and made these recommendations to the Minister. A total of 198 proposals were received, covering a wide range of health services. The majority of the proposals, 135 in total, were from the 17 Regional Health Authorities, the Alberta Cancer Board and the Alberta Mental Health Board. The remaining 64 proposals came from a wide range of associations, universities, and not-for-profit organizations.

"These projects are going to look at innovative ways of improving patient access, integrating services, improving affordability and health outcomes. They cover a wide range of health areas from primary health, acute care services, community health, telehealth to palliative care. As well, the evaluation and sharing of information, which is a key element of these projects, will be a benefit to other health providers," commented Jonson.

Watershed Advisory Group formed

By Nicole Smith

A Mountain View Producer Watershed Advisory Group has been formed in the last couple of months to take a look at "Man's Impact on Nature."

The group of about 20 locals met last Friday afternoon to hold their election of officers and to discuss the focus of the group.

After listening to a presentation from Jim Laslo, the Agricultural Fieldman for Wheatland County, the group held their nominations for the executive.

Murray Forster was chosen as the Chairman of the advisory group; Rose Balcon is the Vice Chair and Jeff Holmes is the Secretary.

Though the advisory group is still in the infant stage, the group has listed six potential issues for future focus. They are:

1. To audit the area by establishing long-term monitoring sites and water quality benchmarks and identifying local success stories and hot spots.

2. To work with stakeholders including the intensive livestock industry and towns and villages in this watershed.

3. To establish an inventory of where to go for expertise and information of management options that work.

4. To encourage responsible planning and development.

5. To have public image programs directed to youth and ag in the classroom programs.

6. To initiate educational demonstration sites on Agricultural Management Options.

The group is planning to meet every month in the hopes that their goals will be met in the future.

HA5 now smoke-free

By Nicole Smith

All Health Authority 5 facilities have butted out.

Effective April 1, all buildings in the authority are now smoke-free, with the exception of Continuing Care complexes where only residents may smoke in designated areas.

Smoking will still be allowed outside the HA5 buildings for staff, visitors and acute care patients, but these areas will not be at public entrances to the facilities.

Cheryl Ferguson, Director of Population Health for HA5 says this is a way of making the facilities a more healthy place for its clients.

"We're helping promote our philosophy of providing a healthy environment for staff and clients through leading by example," said Ferguson, in a press release.

"Being health care providers, it is our job to look out for our patients' well-being; HA5's new smoking policy is just another way we're continuing to do so every day."

Credit Union AGM an enriching experience

by Leah Payne

Members of Mountain View Credit Union will be just a little richer at the end of the year.

The credit union experienced a growth of 7.6 percent in 1999. Charles Van Arnem, president of the board of directors, reported to those members in attendance at the banks annual general meeting at the Didsbury Memorial Complex, Wednesday night.

The 7.6 growth translates to $550,167 in Dividend and Patronage payments to the bank's members.

Along with the good news of growth within the organization it was also announced that service fees will soon be rising.

"With continued pressure on interest margins caused by competitors that rely heavily on fee based income, your board has undertaken a review of the fee structure with a view to covering more of the costs of providing these services. Accordingly there will be some modest fee increases in the last half of 2000," Van Arnem said.

It was also mentioned that Mountain View Credit Union is adding a wider selection of accounts to better match the needs of their patrons.

Two new directors were elected to the board and a third, Charles Van Arnem, was re-elected to continue to serve the members of the Mountain View Credit Union.

Otto Hoff and Vance van Dam are the newly elected directors. Noreen Olson served as guest speaker for the event and gave a humorous account of "antique banking practices." While she gave many humorous accounts, she summed up pretty much everyone's feelings with her final statement.

"My association with the local credit union is a pleasant one. Every time I go in I get greeted with kindness, compassion and intelligence. No matter how automated the banking business becomes, I hope that that never changes."

STARS gives local rescue workers unique training

By Nicole Smith

Many of the area's firefighters and emergency personnel received some very unique training in Cremona last Friday.

The STARS Emergency Medical Education Unit was in Cremona to train local rescue workers on the Human Patient Simulator (HPS).

The HPS patient, referred to as Standard Man, or Stan for short, is a lifelike mannequin that can simulate complex medical and surgical problems over and over again.

Stan speaks, blinks, has reactive pupils, and his lungs simulate real gas exchange. He expires carbon dioxide and has realistic chest movements and sounds.

Stan has an anatomically correct body and airway, which allows intubation and other more invasive airway management skills practice.

Stan can also be administered drugs with the expected physiologic effects and toxicity. Also, if Stan experiences cardiac rhythm disturbances, cardioversion and defibrillation with real equipment can be performed on him.

Bonnie Sproule, the Human Patient Simulator Coordinator for STARS, says that the training that medical and rescue workers receive with Stan is not an evaluative process, but an environment promoting excellence in patient care where both those delivering the program and those participating will learn from each other's unique experiences and problem solving approaches.

Sproule says that this community mission started last September, and so far she and her team have visited 22 communities in Southern Alberta, British Columbia and Montana.

Stan and his mobile "emergency room" spend one month in Southern Alberta and one month in Northern Alberta, so that as many communities in rural parts of the province can be reached.

Sproule says that the program is a real effective way of training.

"If you buy into it, you'll have more fun and get more out of it," she said.

"People get a chance to do skills they may not have had a chance to do."

This service is of no cost to the communities that the HPS visits.

"There is a real need in rural communities for this type of teaching," Sproule said.

"It's used to strengthen the chain of survival."

Sproule says that the STARS' unit is the only mobile unit in North America and is used to train everyone from doctors and nurses to EMTs and firefighters.

She says that the experience is a very real one for those involved in the training.

"You see people sweat and get very anxious - they really buy into it," she said.

The program sponsors for this unit are Lockerbie and Hole, METI who makes the HPS and the Lions (Multiple District 37).

The cost for the whole program is about $450,000, with Stan costing $237,000 and the computer equipment costing $105,000.

"It's an incredible teaching tool," Sproule concluded. "It's high-tech teaching."

County releases three-year construction priorities

By Nicole Smith

At the March 22 meeting of the Mountain View County council a three-year list of construction priorities was approved.

In the 2000 construction season, the County will spend an estimated $2.4 million on seal coating, paving and culvert replacements throughout the region.

Some of the projects for this summer include seal coating on Highway 27, Secondary Highway 584 and the north and south bound lanes of Highway 2.

For Highway 2, Alberta Infrastructure has proposed to seal coat from north of the Acme road to north of the Didsbury access and from south of the Olds overpass to north of the Olds overpass.

This proposed seal coat will provide improved skid resistance as well as to seal surface imperfections.

Roads that will receive final pavement include Secondary Highway 579 and Secondary Highway 582.

The culvert replacement will be on Secondary Highway 584 at Barry Creek.

In the construction season of 2001, a lot will be happening around Didsbury if plans go ahead.

Grading, base course and paving is planned for Highway 2A north of Carstairs and south of Didsbury.

Also in 2001, the County is planning to seal coat from east of Highway 22 to Didsbury.

Other plans for 2001 include final pavement on the County boundary north of Secondary Highway 581; final pavement from Bergen to Sundre; and ACP overlay from Coal Camp Road to Highway 22.

In 2002, the County is planning to replace the girder on the Rosebud River; do ACP overlay from Carstairs to Highway 2; and do selective improvements from the County boundary to Highway 27.

It seems like in these days of high technology and the Internet, you can find just about anything on-line.

Whether you're looking to buy a very rare book or are wanting to join some type of specialized cult, you can find it on the Net. Well, guess what else you can now find on the Net? Us.

As of last Wednesday, the Didsbury Review is officially on-line at <http://didsburyreview.awna.com>.

Although it is going to take some time for us to get used to putting the paper on the Net, we're hoping that it will be an effective way for people to catch the latest news in our area.

You'll be able to check out the top news stories of the week, take a look at pictures taken locally, read up on local human interest stories, as well as check out all our classifieds.

I think this is a real turning point for our small rural newspaper. Now, people everywhere will be able to read about our town and catch all the local news. Even my father, who classes himself as a "high tech redneck," will be able to see what's up in Didsbury.

You'll have to bear with us for a while, as we get the hang of creating this website. There is still a lot of tweaking and fine tuning that needs to be done, but I do have a vision of what the end product will look like. Now I just have to work at getting it there.

We welcome any suggestions, concerns or criticisms that you, our readers, may have about this new on-line version. We're still pretty much rookies at all this, so if you have any ideas, they would be greatly appreciated.

Also, we want to hear whether you're using our on-line paper. Is it more convenient for you? Less convenient? We want to know. I think that we're planning on doing some type of survey in the future, so keep an eye out for that.

I know that many people enjoy the actual ritual of reading our print version of the paper. We're hoping that this will also soon become a ritual for some of our readers. Just without the black fingers.

Thompson supports alliance

Myron Thompson, Member of Parliament for Wild Rose released the following statement today regarding the founding of the Canadian Alliance Party this past weekend.

"In my opinion, the grassroots people have spoken. The referendum leaves no doubt what the majority of Reform Party members want. I believe in the collective wisdom of the people, and that is democracy at its best. I am now officially a Canadian Alliance Member of Parliament and will continue to work hard on your behalf to bring about changes essential to the well being of all Canadians, and to protect the values near and dear to your hearts.

I especially want to commend those who took the time to absorb the information on the Canadian Alliance, and cast their ballot. I encourage those who voted no, to make the decision unanimous, and help us rid ourselves of the unaccountable arrogant Liberal government that now exists in Ottawa.

Those who possess a Reform membership will now automatically become a Canadian Alliance member. Memberships will soon be available for those who wish to be a Canadian Alliance member, and therefore eligible to vote in the upcoming leadership race.

Thank you all for your past support, and I look forward to your continued support, as the Canadian Alliance Party forges ahead."

By-law 99-12, Section 2

The owner or occupant of a dwelling or other premises shall provide at their own expense and maintain in good condition a sufficient number of waste containers to hold at least one week's accumulation of waste.

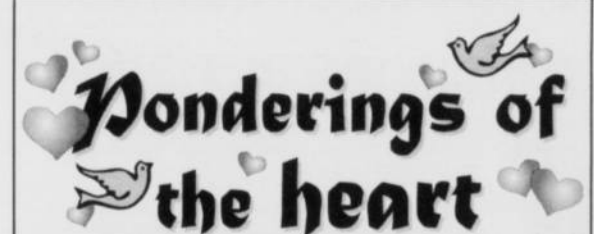

Section 4: the owner or occupant of a dwelling or other premises shall be responsible to prevent the accumulation of refuse at a dwelling or other premises to the point where an unsanitary, unsafe or unsightly condition develops.

Section 8: no owner, occupant or employee of a dwelling or other premises, in the Town shall: dispose of any refuse at a location not designated by the Town for disposal, place any refuse at a dwelling or other premises at which they are not the owner, occupant or employee, or place any refuse into a container or receptacle that is not designated for their use.

Putting signs up for garage sales, parties, private sales etc. on telephone poles, railings and so on around town, may be a cheap and easy way to advertise, but you are defacing public property. Please remember to make use of the public bulletin boards in town to do your advertising. One is located in front of the Post Office and the other is at the corner of 15th Ave. and 20th St.

This way no damage will be done, it will look cleaner and all will be happy.

Our Extended Beanpatch

This week I am writing in response to a question posed to me following my story last month on, "Our Bean Patch."

Her question was a valid one. "What happens when our 'bean patch' becomes so large we can hardly keep up to it, or any longer manage it?"

This caused me to ponder: perhaps we have not yet completely identified our own personal 'bean patch': our unique place of ministry: and we are busy striving to reach out in every direction, whether by choice or pressure from others, or,perhaps in our enthusiasm and eagerness, we have taken over someone else's 'bean patch' and are facing 'overload', and haven't yet learned to say "no".

Equally important is that our 'Bean Patch' does change. It does not always remain the same. There are times in our lives, when situations arise. Circumstances change, and unexpected pressures come upon us, and our personal 'bean patch' is extended, almost to the breaking point. It is at this time that we need to humble ourselves, and admit we need help. This is often difficult to do, but there are times in my life when I need you, and I pray that I will be sensitive to you, when a need arises in your lives, to help you cope in your 'bean patch'.

May we continue to labour hard in our 'Bean Patch', and enjoy it at the same time.

Notes from Nigeria

Dan and Janet Snyder are Didsburians who are missionaries in Nigeria. They are working at a school in Jos, Nigeria for the Evangelical Missionary Church of Canada, and Dan is teaching Math and English, while Janet runs the library for the whole school.

Dear friends,

It is so nice to have a mission family, especially when we are so far from our physical family when tragedy hits. Monday we were reeling from the news about Dan's nephew and Janet's dad but several people came over that day just to say how sorry they were. Several prayed with us and hugged us before they left. All volunteered to do whatever they could to help if we needed it. In some ways it almost seems unreal that Jeremy and dad are gone. We are so far away and there is nothing here to make it seem real. It is easy to stay in the denial stage of the grief process when we are so far away. I am sure the reality will hit when we get home and face empty spots in our families. The Lord has been very faithful in providing comfort and strength and we know that He will continue to over the next days, weeks and especially as we go home.

Wednesday, the grade 12 boys discipleship group led in chapel. Basically it was a panel discussion, with Mr. Munro, the discipleship leader, asking question of the students. It was good to hear their answers and how God is working in their lives. One of the questions was about what was unique or special about Hillcrest. They liked the variety of cultures here and what they have learned because of that but one student also mentioned the variety of denominational backgrounds. He had learned to appreciate the differences and strengths of the different denominations as well as learning to be tolerant of minor differences. One student also encouraged the other students to take their faith seriously. It is easy to pretend to be a Christian here without having a true commitment to Christ.

Friday night was the final for the intramural middle school basketball league. The two top teams for both the boys and the girls played. They have improved over the season. After the games the seventh grade went over to one of the teachers' houses for an all-night "event". Usually the seventh grade goes on a campout, girls to one area and boys to another. This year, with the unrest, it was felt that it would not be safe to take the students camping. Also, none of the middle school teachers really enjoys camping. So instead, the students went to Miss Zinn's house and she talked her next door neighbor into helping. The kids watched a movie outside, projected onto a wall. They had popcorn and drinks and when it was time for "bed" the girls went to Miss Zinn's and the boys went to the Athertons'. Since Dan is the only male teacher in the middle school he got the "privilege" of helping chaperone the boys. They would rather talk than sleep so no one got much rest. After a pancake breakfast the students were on their way home to sleep some more.

Tonight is the staff talent night, and we expect to see some real talent as well as some funny things.

Many of us don't feel terribly talented but we can sing together and enjoy that. It has been enjoyable practicing a couple of challenging pieces; we hope it goes well tonight.

Sincerely,
Dan & Janet

Note to Smokers

Dear Editor,

Do smokers know their percentage of being able to stop? It is very low, about 30%.

There are however, lots of ways to help you stop. These include: the nicotine patch, gum, inhaler, and drugs that help you gradually cut down until you are able to stop. Another way is hypnosis which is meant to help you stop completely and immediately.

From smoking you can develop cancer, heart disease, birth defects and/or emphysema. Non-smokers can develop the same problems when they are subjected to second hand smoke.

There are more Canadians dying from smoke related sicknesses. Each year, over 80,000 Canadians die of heart attacks, strokes and other related disorders. (Heart and Stroke Foundation of Canada).

Smokers are wasting their money on cigarettes. A pack of cigarettes cost $5.50. This totals $1825.00 each year if they smoke a pack a day.

If you smoke, it also wastes your time. It takes five minutes to smoke a cigarette. Multiplied by twenty-five cigarettes and you have wasted 125 minutes each day.

Smokers are having to go outside to smoke because more places are becoming smoke-free. This is because the owners don't want to have second hand smoke in their businesses.

Sincerely,
Tim Phillips,
Westglen School, Grade 5B

Library News

Oops! We have had one of those awful computer glitches ...all holds on John Grisham's The Brethren were inadvertently deleted by another library in the system. It was an unfortunate but honest mistake. Sincere apologies from them to us and from the Didsbury Library staff to all of our patrons who have been affected by this. Our list of holds for this book is completely erased. Please call the Library (335-3142) to have your request reinstated. We are very sorry for the inconvenience.

On display this week is a collection of materials donated to our library through Parkland and the Alberta Capital Market Foundation and the Investor Learning Centre of Canada. In a quandary about mutual funds, investments, market share, etc.? Check out these books... they are sure to provide answers to your questions!

The Alberta Foundation for the Arts is seeking submissions from local artists for inclusion in the Foundation's Art Collection. Ask at the library for more details.

New books:

Sir Edmund Hillary's View from the Summit is not simply the story of an incredible mountain climbing feat, but also the tale of a philanthropist and a diplomat who accomplished so much.

On the lighter side, The Cat Who Robbed a Bank by Lilian Jackson Braun is the latest in the series of mystery novels so appealing to cat lovers and readers alike.

Check it out at your local library.

Ross Ford Report

by Randi Anderson, Dayna Hadway, Emma Harris, Rebekah Nussbaum and Carley Patten

The last week of March was buzzing with activity for the Grade fours and some of the Grade threes.

Grade 3&4 students were invited in February to join the school choir if they pleased. The Choir is lead by Mrs. Lorna Brown. The students meet each Wednesday during the lunch break to rehearse.

On Monday, March 27 at 8:40 a.m. the Grade 3&4 Choir did some singing for the school and parents. The Choir sang three songs which were the Lollipop Tree, Favorite Things, and Raindrops Keep Falling On My Head. What a performance! "It was a lot of fun and a little embarrassing," says Ashley Kreuter of 4B. "Mostly fun!"

It was off to Calgary on the bus first thing in the morning Wednesday, March 29, for Mr. Bullivant, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Gole, and Miss Christensen's classes. Our first stop was the Jack Singer Concert Hall where we listened to the Calgary Philharmonic Orchestra performance. The concert hall was filled with students from various schools but because of the shape of the hall every seat was the best seat in the house. There were three special performances which were Tubby the Tuba, Hansel and Grettle by an opera singer, and a shadow puppet play. The show was a great performance, it is one of the best places to visit in Calgary.

We enjoyed eating our lunches at Olympic Plaza before heading to the Glenbow Museum. We mainly focused on the third floor of the museum which featured Native Artifacts. Some things we really found interesting in the exhibit were: the bear knuckle necklace, the stuffed beaver and buffalo, the buffalo jump, the log cabin and the native headdress which had 96 eagle feathers in it.

The day zoomed by because this was such a fun field trip. We hope we can go back some time and we hope you get to go too. Special thanks to all the parents who accompanied us. Thanks to our three bus drivers for giving up their time for our field trip and for getting us there and back safely.

Didsbury Outlaws 4-H news

by Robert Morgan

March has been a busy month. We had our first aid on Saturday the 18th we had a really good instructor, Mr. Roberts.

It was a long day but we sure learned lots from him.

We have started our rides at the Didsbury Pavillion the 1st years are having fun at the rides and learning lots about horsemanship.

Besides our official rides we can go and practice what we have learned, during the open ride.

A group of our members went to Agribition day on March 19 and they got to see what a 4-H is supposed to do. As well they got to see lots of exhibitions.

There is a 4-H parents meeting on Wednesday the 19th for the summer rodeo.

Anne of Green Gables...The musical playing soon

by Becky Cox

Students from Olds Koinonia Christian School are putting on the Canadian Broadway musical, Anne of Green Gables. Performance dates are set for April 6, 12, 13, 14, and 15. Originally, April 12 was not scheduled as a performance, but tickets were sold out so quickly, that an extra performance date was scheduled. This too was sold out within half a day.

Some attribute the quick sell-out, to audience enjoyment and enthusiasm for musicals in particular. Cast member Heather Laslo ("Miss Stacey") says, "In my experience, I have found that the singing and dancing combined with acting produces a higher level of energy for cast and audience alike, more so than just acting." Many also feel that a musical production is well overdue for this community.

The cast and crews of the production have poured hours of their time into the show. It is an extra-curricular activity, and has been done by all on their own time. The huge time commitment aside, many cast members have found many challenging aspects about the show. Most of the cast has never done anything like this before, so each step of the way is a learning experience. Amy Lynn, who plays the energetic red headed Anne Shirley, also met many challenges with her role. "When we began, it was difficult to be uninhibited. How you are on stage is completely different than how you are normally," Lynn finds that these challenges have been instrumental in maturing as a person. "The teen years can be some of the most selfish years in life; Anne has helped me to look beyond myself, and to appreciate others."

Matthew Mengersen, who had to be talking into taking a major role, plays the character of Matthew Cuthbert. Fortunately, now he is glad that he is involved. He feels that the show has brought him wonderful memories, new friendships, and self-confidence.

Julie Taylor, who has watched the show from the beginning says "...it was neat to see the teamwork and new friendships form." Taylor has been heavily involved in a lot of work behind the scenes, and is greatly appreciated.

To all involved, the show has taken its share of 'blood, and sweat, and tears', but the end results make it all worthwhile.

It is an experience that will stay with us for years and years to come and we are all grateful for the opportunity to be a part of Anne. As Lynn puts it, "Anne is a part of me now. She won't go away. When I am eighty years old, I will still be singing Anne."

All of the cast members are extremely thankful to those who have helped out: costume hunting, making meals, set building, painting, and to all whom gave of their time energy resources. Most of all, they are thankful to Miss Erin Wiebe (director), who had the vision for this project, and did most of arranging, planning, directing, and inspiring to make this show happen.

Olds Agricultural Society spotlighting local artists

The Olds Agricultural Society, host of the Mountain View County Fair & Rodeo, announced they are going to the people for their first Fair vision of the new millennium.

A member of the public will design the 2000 Fair & Rodeo poster. And they will be rewarded for their creativity.

The artist or artists designing the poster selected to represent the 2000 Fair & Rodeo will receive $500 from the Olds Agricultural Society (OAS). Additionally, the poster will be printed with the artists initials or logo inscribed. "We usually used a poster designed by Directors on the Board, or our Promotions Committee," says OAS President Pete Van Tighem. "Since the fair is put on for the people by the people, we want the people to create the vision for the event that kicks off our next hundred years."

The poster, which generally measures 11 by 17 inches, is used as one of the primary promotional tools for the Mountain View County Fair & Rodeo, with distribution heavy in central Alberta, but ranging across western Canada.

"As always, we want the poster to commemorate our rich local heritage, but also to represent a vision for agriculture in the 21st century," says Garry Bradshaw, OAS 1st Vice President. "The focus on our past propelling us into the future is what we want to see to promote our 2000 Fair."

The poster contest is open to everyone. The poster must include the following (in no particular order):

- Mountain View County Fair and Rodeo;
- The Biggest Little Fair in the West;
- Contact (or Call) 403/556-3770;
- Olds Agricultural Society;
- August 10-13; or August 10-13, 2000; or August 10, 11, 12, 13, 2000.

With this information included, the art, colours, theme and any other wording is left to the artist's interpretation. Focus should be on the events and activities of the Annual Mountain View County Fair & Rodeo, as well as on the local community.

The poster may also be used as the cover for the Creative Arts and Livestock Prize List books. These books have combined circulation of thousands.

"We have always been very proud of our posters, and really look forward to a new concept for advertising our first fair of the new millennium," continued Bradshaw. The 1999 poster commemorating the 100th Anniversary of the Society recently received a second place award at the Alberta Association of Agricultural Societies Annual Convention.

All entries must be in OAS' Administration Office prior to 4:00 p.m. on Wednesday, April 19, 2000. The winning poster will be selected at the Board of Directors Meeting on Thursday, April 20 and unveiled to the general public soon thereafter.

"We are really excited about the poster concept for this year," continued Van Tighem. We know there is extraordinary talent out there, and we want to spotlight it to everyone.

The upside of downtime

By Marilyn Logan

I have had more than my share of mishaps in the kitchen. Some of these flubs have been quickly dismissed. Others have been more memorable. My husband invited guests for dinner one evening. I was nervous preparing for this meal and spent days pondering the menu. My biggest stumbling block was dessert. After much turmoil, I finally settled on individual fruit filled pastries. But somehow this didn't seem elegant enough. I had to turn the ordinary into the extraordinary. I certainly succeeded!

I stumbled upon a recipe for a sauce that I thought would enhance both the presentation and the flavor of the dessert. Keep in mind I had never tried this recipe. It just tasted good on paper.

The appetizers and main course went down well. As the hostess, I was beginning to relax and feel more confident about my culinary skills. When the time seemed appropriate, I headed to the kitchen to check the simmering sauce and to set the pastries on serving dishes. I just knew this dessert would be talked about for months to come. As I dribbled the sauce over the first pastry I noticed a problem. As soon as the sauce hit the plate it solidified into a texture that resembled the coating on a red candy apple. My only hope was that the topping wouldn't become too hard before we started eating.

Everyone oohed and aahed as I set the dishes on the table. As the guests lifted their forks and pierced the pastry, shattered chunks of topping exploded. Everyone pretended they hadn't noticed the flying shrapnel. The man sitting next to me lifted a forkful to his lips. This was the moment of truth. Putting the morsel into his mouth, he bit down. His facial muscles started to contort. How was I to know he wore dentures? Like glue, the topping held fast to both his upper and lower plates. He couldn't open his mouth. You could actually see his jaw muscles straining to free his teeth. I wanted to laugh but got the distinct impression that he did not find this situation amusing. It was also obvious that he didn't know how to extricate himself from this predicament with dignity.

My husband finally broke the silence that had fallen over the table. "A little chewy, my dear. Hope everyone's fillings are secure!" With these two sentences, the sticky silence was broken. The man covered his mouth with a napkin and discreetly removed his teeth. Using the napkin as a cover, he pried his teeth apart then returned them home. To avoid further embarrassment he stated that although the dessert was wonderful, he was just too full to eat another bite.

I have never served this dessert again. Many dentists wish I would.

Moral: Sticky situations can leave you all gummed up.

Words from Westglen

by Alicia Penner

Westglen must be an exciting place. We have had many new teachers, and now we are privileged to have Mrs. Leiper join us. She is a student teacher with Mr. Overguard. When asked what she liked about Westglen, she said that the kids here have a good sense of humor, and a light-hearted approach. She also says that we're fun and feels that she knows us because we all live in the same town.

Grade seven and eight Jazz band has been going well, and they are hoping to play in the spring concert. The grade sevens are doing Japan in Social Studies, and although they have not had sushi yet, they may have some at the end of the unit. They have just finished time lines, and they look great.

Congratulations to Jillian Tyler for winning Best of Fair in the regionals for the Science Fair. Her subject was Tongue-Tied, and the question she focused on was, "What Happens to Your Brain when Two Messages are Sent at Once?" She won a certificate, medal, trophy, and $100.

Congratulations again to her and to anyone else who participated.

We have started something new here in our Westglen Words column. A student opinion will be conducted every week by one or more of our writers, and posted in our article. This week, the question was, "Would you rather have an Easter break at the end of April or a Spring break, like other schools, in March. Surprisingly enough, here are the results:

Dakota, grade five- "I would rather have it at the end of April because I like Easter." Stephanie, grade seven- "I think it should be at Easter because then you can spend more time with your family." Justin, grade six- "I want it at the end of April because that's when my birthday is and I'd rather have it off." Ashley, grade eight- "I'd rather have it in March, because it's nice out now, and it's sooner." Look for more student opinions in the near future.

News from the Dragon's Den: Easter's coming

We are on the countdown; there are only three weeks of school left before the Easter break. There are many important events going on in the school during this period, which should help the time pass quickly.

It is great to see growing student interest in the Job Shadow Program offered through the school. We have 17 high school students participating this year, the best turnover ever. The students spend a full week with a local business or institution in the industry that they are interested in. The experience helps them make informed career decisions. Students this year are experiencing a wide variety of careers including veterinary medicine, emergency response, education, physiotherapy, law, heavy duty repair, accounting, and nursing. We appreciate the efforts of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. McCulloch in organizing this learning experience. We also appreciate the assistance of community members who agree to work with the students.

Report Cards are issued on Friday, April 7. Interviews will be held in the DHS Library the following week on Tuesday, April 11 and Wednesday, April 12. Interviews will begin at 4:30 p.m. and end at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday. On Wednesday they will begin at 5:30 and run until 8:30. Please call the office to make an appointment.

The season is underway for the Junior and Senior Badminton Teams. The Junior Badminton team, along with their coach Ms. Forrest, has been practising after school on Tuesdays and Thursdays in the DHS gym. They are getting ready for Counties, which will be held on April 19 at Westglen School. The Senior team, under the direction of Mr. Paton and Mr. Leggette, has been practising on Monday and Wednesdays after school. Their Counties will be held on April 18. Good luck to all of our badminton competitors.

There are a few meetings coming up that parents need to be aware of. First of all, there will be a meeting for all grade 9 parents on Wednesday, April 12, the second evening of Parent Teacher Interviews, at 8:00 p.m. It will be held in Room 137, across from the DHS Library. The meeting is very important for all grade 9 parents as it will deal with Senior High Course Requirements and Grade 9 Camp. The guidance counselor, Mr. Neuberger, and the teachers organizing Grade 9 Camp will be there to answer questions you may have.

Just a reminder that the monthly School Council Meeting will be held in the DHS Library on Monday, April 17 at 7:00 p.m.

The Didsbury Preventative Program Co-ordinators have planned a parent information meeting dealing with the effects of violence on children. There will be a guest speaker from the Wheatland Community Crisis Society, which will be followed by a question period. The session will be held on April 11 from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. in the Ross Ford Library. Call Lisa Lough at 335-3234 or 335-8700 of Kelly Berreth at 335-3356 to register or if you have any questions.

Finally, there will be a scholarship information session on Tuesday, April 18 in Room 204 at DHS during the lunch hour. The meeting, which begins at 12:10 p.m., is open to all grade 12 students and their parents. If you are planning to attend a post secondary institution, you don't want to miss this session. If you have any questions, please see Mrs. Miller.

Alberta Education has announced a new scholarship program this month called the Jason Lang Scholarship. This scholarship program is named in memory of the 17 year-old Taber High School student killed in the tragic school shooting last April. Jason was a very promising young man and while he did not have the opportunity to continue his education, this scholarship, funded by the Alberta Scholarship Fund, will help thousands of students continue theirs. Each award will be valued at $1,000. The number of awards will be based on the number of students achieving qualifying marks. Eligibility is as follows:

- must be an Alberta resident
- must have completed one year of any undergraduate post-secondary program in Alberta that is at least two years in length
- Average marks obtained in the first year of study must be equivalent to at least 80%

- the student must have been enrolled in at least 80% of a full course load

- the student must take at least 60% of a full course load in their second year of the same program

- Students are not entitled to receive a Louise McKinney Scholarship, which is awarded to the top 2% of students entering their second year.

The first awards will be confirmed by October 15, 2000. For more information check the internet at <http://www.alis.gov.ab.ca/learning/FinancialAssistance/HeritageScholarship>.

Trade Show 2000: An exciting experience for all

TOES TAPPING

The Fiddler's Jamboree is always one of the highlights of the Didsbury Trade Show. This year musicians from as far as Edmonton and Sherwood Park came to display their talents. Left: Local fiddler Jillian Shields, 8, was definitely the youngest musician to cross the stage during the Jamboree.

ART ACHIEVEMENT

The 47th Annual Art Show and Sale, which always runs in conjunction with the Trade Show, brought out many local artists as well as many local admirers.

WAY OF LIFE RELIGION

Focus on the Family

James C. Dobson, PH. D., is founder and president of Focus on the Family, a non-profit organization dedicated to the preservation of the home. Dr. Dobson is married, the father of two grown children, and resides in Colorado.

For 14 years he was an associate clinical professor of pediatrics and the university of Southern California School of Medicine, and served for 17 years on the attending staff of the Children's Hospital of Los Angeles. He has also been heavily involved in governmental activities relating to the preservation of the family.

QUESTION: Last week you talked about why some kids with every advantage and opportunity seem to turn out bad, while others raised in terrible homes become pillars in the community. You cited the life of David Hernandez as an example. What happened to him?

DR. DOBSON: Given his beginning, how can we explain the man that Dave Hernandez became? He graduated near the top of his class in high school and was granted a scholarship to college. Again, he earned high marks, and four years later entered Loma Linda University School of Medicine. Once more, he scored in the top 10 percent of his class and continued in a residency in obstetrics and gynecology. Eventually he served as a professor of OB/GYN at both Loma Linda University and the University of Southern California medical schools. Then at the peak of his career, his life began to unravel.

I'll never forget the day Dr. Hernandez called me on the telephone. He had just been released from the hospital following a battery of laboratory tests. The diagnosis? Sclerosing cholangitis, a liver disorder that was invariably fatal at that time. We lost this fine husband, father and friend six years later at the age of 43. I loved him like a brother and still miss him today.

Again, I ask, how could such discipline and genius come from these infertile circumstances? Who would have thought that this deprived Mexican boy sitting out there in the dirt would someday become one of the most loved and respected surgeons of his era? Where did the motivation originate? From what bubbling spring did his ambition and thirst for knowledge flow? He had no books, took no educational trips, knew no scholars. Yet he reached for the sky. Why did it happen to David Hernandez and not the youngster with every advantage and opportunity? Why have so many children of prominent and loving parents grown up in ideal circumstances, only to reject it all for the streets of Atlanta, San Francisco or New York? Good answers are simply not available.

It apparently comes down to this: God chooses to use individuals in unique ways. Beyond that mysterious relationship, we must simply conclude that some kids seem born to make it and others are determined to fail. Someone reminded me recently that the same boiling water that softens the carrot also hardens the egg. Likewise, some individuals react positively to certain circumstances and others negatively. We don't know why.

Two things are clear to me from this understanding. First, parents have been far too quick to take the credit or blame for the way their children turn out. Those with bright, young superstars stick out their chests and say, "Look what we accomplished." Those with twisted and irresponsible kids wonder, "Where did we go wrong?" Well, neither is entirely accurate. No one would deny that parents play an important role in the development and training of their children. But they are only part of the formula from which a young adult is assembled.

Second, behavioral scientists have been far too simplistic in their explanation of human behavior. We are more than the aggregate of our experiences. We are more than the quality of our nutrition. We are more than our genetic heritage. We are more than our biochemistry.

And certainly, we are more than our parents' influence. God has created us as unique individuals, capable of independent and rational thought that is not attributable to any source. That is what makes the task of parenting so challenging and rewarding. Just when you think you have your kids figured out, you had better brace yourself! Something new is coming your way.

Way of Life: Look and Live!

You see them at just above every major sporting event. They are most evident when a player stands ready at the free-throw line, or when the batter steps up to the plate with a full count, or when a touchdown or goal is scored. Amidst the throngs of those who are standing and cheering and jeering, the placards are hoisted. And among the variety is sure to be one that reads "John 3:16".

As a Christian familiar with this verse, I frequently feel embarrassed about this "in-your-face" form of evangelization. I wonder, "has anyone come to faith in God because of those propagandized testimonies?" The world Wrestling Federation (WWF) has recognized the power of this verse to call people to faith. And so, with bravado they market their star, inviting us to believe in "Austin 3:16". If the WWF can use this verse to convince, I guess God can too. After all, I do believe in a God who is great enough to work a miracle of transformation despite our insensitivities, and even while we revel in the competition and consumerism of a major sporting event.

But, in waving our placards and shouting our support, we are really missing the point. The words of John 3:16 are the words Jesus spoken to us, in a heart-to-heart conversation. Jesus says: "God so loved the world that he gave his only Son, so that everyone who believes in him may not perish but may have eternal life."

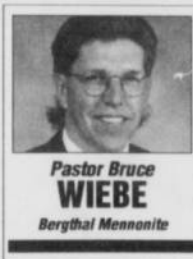

Jesus is speaking about the way you and I can enter the kingdom of God. This "golden text" is the heart of the message of good news for all people. All of us are separated from God by the sin of our lives. But God loves us, and demonstrates that love by giving up his Son, Jesus Christ, who suffered and died with the weight of our sin. Then God raised Jesus from the dead, and promises to raise up and give life eternal to all of us who believe in Jesus.

God is not marketing a product, even if it is a good one. God is extending a personal invitation to you and me to be changed at the very core of our being; a change that will affect who we are, both now and forever.

Don't "buy" Jesus in the emotion of the moment, or because someone makes you feel guilty and says you should. Instead, know that God has come to you personally in love, desiring what is best for you in life. Look to Jesus, and live.

Henry & Ursula Kuelker of Didsbury & Ken & Rose Niessen of Campbell River, BC are proud to announce a new Grandson "Matthew Daniel", born to happy parents Dr. Eric & Heather Kuelker of Abbotsford BC. He arrived March 13, 2000 and weighed 7-1/2 lbs. Best wishes Eric & Heather and you'll be looking forward to a wonderful new life with your first child!

The Auction Sale at Westcott Hall on Sat. March 25 evening at 7:30 was well attended. Auctioneer Larry Mogck was very pleasant and capable and everyone had a lot of fun. Bidding was fierce on wall hangings, bicycles, hay, bird houses, plants, books, pies, cookies and bread. A delicious dessert lunch was enjoyed by all and also visiting with friends. A good sum was realized for the hall. Everyone hoped we would have another one next year.

Knox UCW ladies met in the Church Hall on Tuesday, March 28 with 21 ladies present. Pres. Shirley McMillan presided and Margaret Gilchrist gave the Devotion and program on Garment and etc. Sweat Shops - Mostly Ethnic ladies, long hours, low pay, in buildings, homes, basements in Central America, Mexico, USA and Canada.

Is spring here? Feels and looks like it. The Geese have been flying overhead (gophers and about, starlings) "our friends", pussywillows and budding. We usually get an Easter storm, we could use some more moisture. Last spring was so dry and cold. Well I guess we'll take what we get.

Tongue Tied wins at Regionals

One thing Didsbury students have been good at is receiving awards at the local Science Fair, and this year was no exception. Not only did Jillian Tyler win Best of Fair at the County competition, but she went on to win Best of Fair at the Regional Competition in Red Deer. Jillian is a Grade 5 student at Westglen Middle School. And what was this year's award-winning project on? "The purpose was what happens to the brain when it receives two messages at once," explains Jillian. "I had a list of sensible words and a list of nonsense words, and gave them to adults, then Grade 5 students, then Grade 2 students," she says. Each color name was shown to the subject in a different color and they were to read them as quickly as possible. Interestingly enough, the female subjects read the sensible words the quickest and the younger males read the nonsense words the quickest. At the County competition, held at Westglen Middle School, Jillian received a Bronze medal and the Best of Fair nod, which moved her on to the next step, the Regionals held at Bower Mall in Red Deer a month later. "I was supposed to have three judges between 6:00 and 9:00. The first one came at 6:30, then nobody else came until 8:15," she said. "The judges were all very nice. It was open to the public on Saturday, but it was very boring then because nobody asks about your project," Jillian stated. It wasn't boring for long though. During the Awards announcements, they called all the Honours people first, and Jillian's name was not called. Then they called the Bronze winners, and she still did not hear her name. Then they went through the Silver recipients, "and I knew there were only two Gold medalists, so I was really wondering." Jillian didn't have to wonder for long, as she was presented with the Gold Medal for Best of Fair, a $100 cheque, a certificate, and a trophy in its way. She's not sitting on her laurels either. "I've entered in every Science Fair since Grade 1," she says proudly, "and I think I already know what I'm going to do next year."

Marg Weaver

Great Food, Good Times, and a Piece of History

It's time once again for the Annual Pioneer Supper, and according to Marg Weaver, President of the Didsbury Historical Society, this year's supper is guaranteed to bring everyone out for a really enjoyable evening. "It's our first big fundraiser of the year, and lots of people look forward to it," says Marg. The museum in Didsbury is completely self-supporting for their administration and building maintenance, and funds raised at various events throughout the year certainly help keep our community's historical artifacts in good care. Tickets are just $12.00 each, kindly donated by Contemporary Graphics, and include roast beef with all the trimmings, a brief discussion about the Museum, and entertainment. The Elks have provided their Hall and kitchen in their continuing support of the museum, and a special treat will be the display of the Millennium Quilt, made by many of the individuals who have built our community and made it strong. "You'll also have to watch the paper for the opening of the archives on the main floor," invites Weaver. In the meantime, circle April 19th on your calendar and plan to attend the 2000 Pioneer Supper. Tickets are available from Harry Penner at Mini Storage, from any Board member, or by calling Marg Weaver at 335-4245. They're also available at the Museum of course, which is open on Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays from 2-5:00 p.m. "We encourage everyone to come out. It really is a good time."

Passion Play Coming Soon

Once again, the Redeemer Lutheran Church will be entertaining the community with their annual Passion Play, the evenings of April 16 and 17. According to Bob Monteith, who plays the disciple, John, the play is "set up so the disciples tell the story of Jesus' sacrifice for us as sinners. It is told from the point of view of the disciples and Centurions, as they saw Jesus living here on earth." There are about ten main characters and more than a dozen other people appear in the crowd scenes, including several children. Even more people are involved behind the scenes, building backdrops, designing and painting sets, sewing costumes and helping dress the actors, and of course, taking care of the lighting and sound requirements.

"There has been a whole lot of cooperation from lots of people to put this play on," Bob says proudly. The Choir Director is no stranger to Didsbury music circles, and Fred Bogner is also one of the actors on stage. "The driving forces behind this year's Passion Play," says Bob, "are most definitely Harry and Lorna Reese."

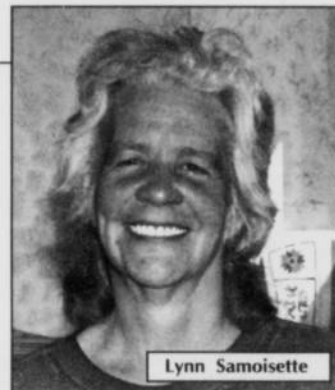

The Whittakers are coaching the actors in some of the finer points of acting as well. The story evolves around the life of Jesus Christ and is something many people in Didsbury look forward to seeing each year. The production is free and everyone is encouraged to come out and see our local talent tell the very touching story of the Son of God. As Bob says, "this is our gift to the community, and it is a real blessing for us to help tell the story of Easter." For more information, contact the Redeemer Lutheran Church at 335-3161, Pastor Robb at 335-3656, or Bob Monteith at 335-9716.

Pack up Your Cans and Bottles

Another great tradition in Didsbury is the annual Scout's Bottle Drive, and you've only got a week to gather up your bottles and cans, because a member of Didsbury's Boy Scouts will visit you on April 15 between 9:30 a.m. and noon. "We'll be going door to door," says Lynn Samoisette, a parent volunteer with the group. "If you're not going to be home, just put everything in a bag, clearly marked for the 'Scout Bottle Drive', and we'll pick it up." They expect to cover the whole town in an effort to help raise funds to cover the rent at the Train Station, where they have their meetings. This Bottle Drive is just one of many functions these young people help put on in the community. "We'll have cotton candy, hamburgers, hot dogs and smokies on the Train Station Platform during Show and Shine in May, and we go out every day picking up garbage during Pitch-In Week," says Lynn. Something new for the Scouts this year is a Bike-a-Thon planned for June, and "that should be a lot of fun," says Lynn. But for now, they're concentrating on their annual Bottle Drive, a really great way to help get everyone in the mood for spring cleaning.

Tops at the 2000 Trade Show

Choosing the booth display winners at the Didsbury Trade Show had to have been a tough decision for the Trade Show Committee, but here they are.

First place went to the Didsbury Municipal Library booth.

The Didsbury RCMP/ Didsbury Search and Rescue booth came in second place.

Third place went to the Candy Bear Shoppe display.

How to Plant Containerized Trees

It cannot be stressed enough that correct planting is essential to the health of your tree. An incorrectly planted tree will take twice as long to grow and will only live half as long as a properly planted tree. Dig or rototill an area 1 foot deep with a diameter approximately 5 times that of the root ball.

This diameter will encourage root growth beyond the root ball which will result in a healthier plant. Do not plant too deeply. Stick to the 1 foot depth. When transplanting always handle the tree by the root ball and not the trunk or branches and always be sure to keep soil around the roots.

To prevent girdling of the roots, make vertical cuts in any roots that are having a tendency to circle the root ball. Place the tree in the prepared hole and pack soil firmly but not tightly around the root ball. Water in well and then layer a protective circle of mulch around the tree.

How to Plant Bare-root Trees

Roots dry out very quickly, so it is best to plant bare-root plants immediately. If this isn't possible because of bad weather or poor soil conditions, the tree should be stored in a cool place and the roots should be kept moist.

1) Unpack tree and soak in water 3 to 6 hours. Do not plant with packing materials attached to roots, and do not allow roots to dry out.

2) Dig a hole, wider than seems necessary, so the roots can spread without crowding. Remove any grass within a three-foot circular area. To aid root growth, turn soil in an area up to 3 feet in diameter.

3) Plant the tree at the same depth it stood in the nursery without crowding the roots. As in containerized planting, do not plant the tree too deeply. Partially fill the hole, firming the soil around the lower roots. Do not add soil amendments.

4) Replace remaining soil, again packing firmly, but not tightly with your heel. Construct a water-holding basin around the tree. Give the tree plenty of water.

5) Allow the water to soak in then place a 2-inch deep layer of protective mulch 3 feet in diameter around the base of the tree (but not touching the trunk).

6) Water the tree generously every week for the first year.

Street Trees

If you live in a town or city, the trees planted on the boulevard next to the sidewalks, are probably city-owned. The city probably has a program for planting and caring for these trees.

You should support your city forestry program and encourage your town to be a tree city. Respect local ordinances as to what trees can be planted, how to prune, etc.

Participate in the care of these trees by ensuring that trees adjacent to your home have enough water, and monitor them for disease and insects.

Notify the town or city public works department if there are any problems with the trees.

Encourage your town to fully fund a quality community forestry program.

Each generation takes the Earth as trustees. We ought to bequeath to posterity as many forests and orchards as we have exhausted and consumed.

CWB Bulletin

At a glance:

The CWB released the March Pool Return Outlook (PRO) for both the 1999-2000 and the 2000-2001 crop year on Thursday, March 23. Price forecasts for both the current and the upcoming crop years will be referred to as the PRO. The CWB has dropped the use of the term Estimated Pool Return (EPR).

CWB Director meetings continue this week at locations across Western Canada. Meeting times and locations are available on the CWB Web site at www.cwb.ca.

From elevator to port:

Rail car unloads for all grains for week 34 (week ending March 26) were 2,822 at Vancouver (target: 3,300) and 1,188 at Prince Rupert (target: 1,200). Rail car unloads at Thunder Bay totalled 1,650 cars (target: 1,100).

Primary elevator space (for week 34) was 19 percent, compared to 19 percent the week before. Manitoba elevators averaged 18 percent space, Saskatchewan averaged 20 percent and Alberta elevators averaged 18 percent space.

FOB forward:

The first vessel of the 2000 shipping season cleared Thunder Bay on Saturday, March 25. The laker took on malting barley destined for Duluth.

Potpourri

CWB has announced the winners of its Quality First Program for 1998-99. Elevators in the US catchment area, which is southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan, are evaluated throughout the crop year based on the accuracy and volume of their shipments. Shipping quality products to US customers adds to farmers' returns.

This year the program was expanded to include an award for the top performer in three different product lines:

(1) high protein Canada Western Red Spring (CWRS) wheat (14% and higher),

(2) low protein Canada Western Red Spring (CWRS) wheat (13.5% protein and lower),

(3) Canada Western Amber Durum (CWAD) wheat.

The industry average for the shipping program to the US was 98.4 percent accuracy. This year's winners are:

- High protein CWRS wheat - N.M. Paterson and Sons Limited - Morris, MB - 100% accuracy.

- Low protein CWRS wheat - SWP-Ag Pro Grain - Moose Jaw, SK - 100% accuracy.

Oat fertilizer study could mean savings

A study funded by Western Grains Research foundation will give producers valuable information on how fertilizer can best be managed in oat crops in order to produce high yields and top-quality oat.

Despite recent increases in prairie oat production, little information exists on fertilization of oat crops. Funded with $54,000 from the WGRF Endowment fund, the three-year study by the Brandon Research Centre of Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada will determine the effect of nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium chloride, as well as combinations of each, on oat growth, yield and quality.

"A better understanding of the nutrient requirements and responses of oat is needed to develop fertilizer management strategies that optimize efficiency and crop yield, and thereby increase returns to producers," says lead researcher Dr. Ramona Mohr.

Oat production on the eastern prairies has increased in recent years. Canada produced nearly 4 million tonnes of oat on about 644,000 acres in the 1998-99 growing season. Eastern prairie farmers grew more than half that total.

"Better fertilizer management may enhance crop quality, which opens the door for high-quality oat suited to the more specialized milling and horse feed markets," Mohr says.

In addition to price premiums, an increased understanding of oat fertilization could mean substantial savings. Fertilizer costs for oat in Manitoba and Saskatchewan are estimated at about $23 per acre. Further information on oat nutrient requirements could increase efficiency and yields, resulting in increased returns on fertilizer dollars for producers.

Nitrogen accounts for a significant portion of the dollars spent on oat fertilizer, and one goal of the study is to determine how much nitrogen oat requires. It will also look at how phosphorus and potassium chloride can be combined with nitrogen. Phosphorus is associated with increased root strength, increased root growth, early maturity, improved crop quality and disease tolerance; however, oat requirements for phosphorus have not been studied extensively.

Benefits from potash fertilizers have been attributed to both potassium and chloride. Potassium deficiencies in crops are often associated with yield reductions, reduced stem strength, and decreased resistance to disease, while chloride applications have been associated with improved crop yield and quantity, reduced disease and improved water relations.

"Crop response to fertilizer applications may be a function of both nutrient-specific and interactive effects," Mohr says. "This study has been designed to find out more about the impact of potassium chloride and phosphorus applications over a wide range of nitrogen application rates."

Two crop locations will be treated with nitrogen, phosphorus, and potassium chloride in increasing amounts in varying combinations. The nutrients will be applied at the time of seeding, and yield, growth and quality of the end product will be analysed based on the fertilizer combinations.

"This is something that should help producers buy the best fertilizer for oat crops, and apply it in the most effective way."

Dr. Cynthia Grant, a soil fertility researcher at the Brandon Research Centre and Bill May, agronomist at the Indian Head Research Farm, are collaborators in the study. The oat fertilizer research project is one of several new research initiatives funded by the WGRF Endowment Fund for 1999. Since its establishment over a decade and a half ago, the Endowment Fund has supported more than 180 research projects representing $16 million in farmer-funded research.

Knights of Columbus Basketball Free Throw

Regional play-offs in the Knights of Columbus Basketball Free Throw were held at Camille Le Rouche School, in Red Deer Sat., March 25. About 125 contestants participated coming from 4 districts as far east as Camrose and Wetaskiwin.

After tie breakers to establish 1st, 2nd, and 3rd in each category, the top three immediately shot another 25 baskets, this score to be entered into provincial and international competition. Winners there, will be announced after all pertinent competitions take place and the results coordinated.

Among local winners were:

Girls:

14 years - Chelsea Simms - Innisfail, 2nd; Heather Saunders - Koinonia, 3rd;

Boys:

10 years - Jesse Sayer - Koinonia, 2nd; Darren Adams - Three Hills, 3rd;

11 years - Joel Tompkins - Koinonia, 2nd;

12 years - Josh De Graf - Koinonia, 1st; Stephen Adams - Three Hills, 3rd;

13 years - Geordi Lobe - Three Hills, 3rd.

The Knights wish to thank all of the teachers and parents who helped and contributed. The number of participants at all levels was the highest in quite a few years.

Bill Boyd leads Bareback standings

By Barry Williams

After a productive weekend at Rodeo Royal, Olds bareback rider Bill Boyd has jumped into the lead in the Canadian Professional Rodeo Association bareback standings.

A two time CPRA champion, Boyd has neatly tucked $5,983 in his Wrangler jeans so far this season, which has included rodeos in Regina, Camrose and Rodeo Royal in Calgary.

Boyd has qualified for the Canadian Finals Rodeo for 17 consecutive years and he is chasing the CFR record of most consecutive appearances at the CFR by a cowboy at 19 held by Jim Dunn, Mel Coleman and Cliff Williamson, of Madden.

The eldest of the Boyd brothers riding on the rodeo circuit, Bill is $3,290 ahead of brother Albert, who has won $2,692 good enough for third place in the bareback riding event. Two other bareback riders from Cochrane are ranked within the top ten, Drake Whitney, in 6th place, has earned $2,427, while Darrell Cholack has won $1,125 for a 9th place setting.

Former CPRA rookie of the year and CPRA calf roping champion, Mark Nugent, of Water Valley is $1,800 shy of Marty Becker, of Manyberries, for top position in the calf roping competition. Nugent has pocketed $4,135 thus far this season.

Water Valley bull riders, Chad Pighin and Jeff Whitlow are 8th and 9th respectfully in the sports most extreme sport, bull riding. Pighin has earned $1,698, while Whitlow has cashed in $1,601.

Meanwhile, Big Valley bull rider, Kelly Armstrong, who has spent the winter in the United States participating on the Wrangler Pro Rodeo circuit has spurred out $13,394 in American change to hold down 11th place in the Professional Cowboys' Rodeo Association / Crown Royal world standings. Armstrong is not ranked on the Canadian circuit and neither is defending CPRA bull riding champion, Robbie Bell, of Water Valley.

After taking last weekend off from hitting the chutes, Canadian cowboys will be participating at the Coleman Rodeo scheduled from April 13-16, 2000.

In other rodeo news, bull rider Glen Keeley, of Nanton, AB, died on March 24 from injuries he sustained at a bull riding competition at Albuquerque, New Mexico. Keeley, the CPRA bull riding champion in 1989 was stepped on by the hind hooves of a one tonne bull named Promise Land after losing control of his feet and being pulled underneath of the animal.

Keeley was taken to hospital by ambulance. After an evaluation by trauma team, doctors found Keeley was suffering from internal injuries.

"Doctors did everything they could to save him (Keeley) but were unable to do that," said Dr. Tandy Freeman, director of medical services for the Justin Sports Medicine Team.

Funeral services for Glen Keeley were held in Staveland on March 30, 2000.

Country of Albania well represented by local Tyke team

by Judy Edwards

The Didsbury Jaguars Tyke hockey team recently participated in the "Tim Horton's Tournament of Nations" in Sherwood Park. Each of the 266 teams from Western Canada and the Northwest Territories participating over the ten day tournament represents a country of the world, complete with new team jerseys.

The Didsbury Jaguars were proud to represent the country of Albania, and brought along a large contingent of fans. By far the noisiest and most enthusiastic group, the Albanian flags, pennants, cheerleading squad, noisemakers and face paint certainly inspired our team to play hard and fast hockey. This was the first official time these kids had played with icings, off-sides and change on the fly, but they listened carefully to the coaches for instructions and adapted well.

The first game in our division was against Team Cyprus (Midnapore). With Sean McGillis in net, Cyprus had a hard time getting the puck past him. With a nice pass from Evan Thompson, Branton Olfert opened the scoring, followed by a hat trick for Jason Edwards. Daniel Graf, Cole Robertson, Will Hadway and Keegan Paton made the difference in this game with their strong back checking. Final score was 4/3 for Team Albania.

The second game of the day had Team Albania against Team Monaco (Cold Lake). Albania was intimidated by the aggressive play of Team Monaco, but the hard working efforts of Blake Shields, Cody Krebs and Tanner Watt inspired this team to fight back.

Kayla Edwards, Braden Overwater and Jason Edwards made some awesome offensive moves, each scoring twice. Goalie Branton Olfert battled hard for the third period, with a final score of 6/4 for Team Albania.

The two previous wins awarded Team Albania and Team Spain (Springbank) their Division A Final game. Goalie Will Hadway, determined to lead his country to a championship, made some game saving stops. Cody Krebs dug in, but was robbed several times by a hot goalie from Spain. Known for his strong defensive play, Evan Thompson scored an awesome goal. Hard work in the defensive zone by team mates Cole Robertson, Sean McGillis, Blake Shields and Tanner Watt allowed Jason Edwards to score a hat trick. Braden Overwater, Daniel Graf, Kayla Edwards and Keegan Paton played solid on the blue line taking away any last minute attempts from Spain. Team Albania was awarded the Divisional Championship, with a final score of 4/2.

Three cheers to coaches Tom Hadway, Gord Krebs and Brent Youngs for providing the opportunity for our local players to win their first international championship! The crazy, noisy fans from Albania were very, very proud!

Carstairs player receives Grizzlys' awards

By Barry Williams

A former member of the Carstairs AA Bruins minor hockey program, Colen Pappas, has been chosen as the Grizzlys Most Valuable Player of the Year for the second consecutive year.

Pappas, a three year veteran and an assistant captain of the Grizzlys, received his award at the annual Grizzlys' Awards Banquet held on April 1, 2000 at the Olds Legion. Besides being named as the most valuable player twice, Pappas was also chosen as Rookie of The Year for the 97-98 season.

Pappas played for the Carstairs Pee Wee AA Bruins for two seasons before heading to Stettler to play Bantam AAA and on to the Foothills Midget AAA Bisons for a year tenure before joining the Grizzlys.

Captain Dana Lattery, who set a Canadian Junior A Hockey League goal scoring record with 64 received the Source For Sports Player of the Year, best forward, the President's trophy and the Top Scorer Award. Lattery finished the Alberta Junior Hockey League 99-2000 season as co-winner with Camrose Kodiaks; Ryan Riddell, for the league's top scorer with 108 points.

Two other players from the Carstairs AA Bruins received major Grizzlys' awards. Defenceman Spencer Van Hereweghe was named as the most Dedicated Player, while Craig Bezjack along with Matt Bruner claimed the Hard Rock Award.

Rookie of The Year honors went to netminder Chad Davidson while Tyler Brosz received the Most Improved Player Award.

Dave Erickson picked up the Best Defenceman award with Jarret Parkyn being named as the most improved blue liner. Named as the most improved forward was Derek Rupprecht.

As the players head home for a summer of golf, the executive will be kept busy finding another general manager/head coach as well as preparing for the 2000-20001 season, the 20th year of operation for the Olds Grizzlys.

Keeley a mentor

by Barry Williams

Although bull rider Glen Keeley was just 30 years old, he was a veteran in the rodeo arena.

In a sport where the younger riders in their late teens or early twenties are dominating, Glen Keeley, who died of his injuries sustained in a rodeo in Alburquerque on March 24 was a mentor to area bull riders.

According to bull rider Kelly Armstrong, of Big Valley, among the top fifteen riders in the current Crown Royal/Professional Rodeo Cowboys' Association world standings, Keeley was... "The best bull rider in Canada."

"He was so aggressive, he spurred like nobody I knew," added Armstrong, noting Keeley was a big influence on his career.

"He (Keeley) was a fierce competitor. He had a burning desire about bull riding," added Armstrong.

"I don't think I could ever warm up to him," noted Armstrong.

A travelling partner with Keeley for about four years, Cremona bull rider Greg Whitlow, who last year lost the vision in an eye at a rodeo in Tuscon, always looked up to Keeley as a friend and a competitor.

Whitlow was always amazed at the way Keeley made friendships and how he was able to remember everyone's name.

According to Whitlow, Keeley had friends all across Canada and the United States and he always took time to spend with the younger bull riders and rodeo fans.

Whitlow and Armstrong are just a couple of bull riders, who will miss their mentor, a guy who craved what he was doing, just riding bulls to the best of his ability.

ROSS FORD ELEMENTARY SCHOOL KINDERGARTEN REGISTRATION

Beginning April 3, 2000, we will be accepting registration for the 2000/2001 kindergarten school year. You may register by phone: 335-3234.

We will have 4 kindergarten programs: 2 full days/week, 4 mornings/week, or 4 afternoons/week.

Your child must be 5 years of age before March 1, 2001.

We will be holding a registration/information meeting on Wednesday, April 12th at 7:15 p.m. in the Ross Ford Elementary School library. At this time, you will be asked to complete the registration form, provide proof of your child's age (birth certificate), and your legal land location (rural students).

A registration fee will be payable in September, 2000.

Our teachers believe, and have found, that if children begin school too early, they often struggle with the social and academic expectations. This can lead to frustration, stress, and early failure. Please reconsider sending your child if he/she is close to the cut off date. If you would like to talk to a teacher or administrator, we would be pleased to do so.

MYSTERIOUS

Van Hereweghe leaves Grizzlys

By Barry Williams

Olds Grizzlys have lost a mentor but, not a friend.

Head coach and general manager, Garry Van Hereweghe has resigned from his position with the Grizzlys, member of the Alberta Junior A Hockey League.

The official announcement of Van Hereweghe's departure was made official at the Grizzlys 99-2000 season awards banquet held at the Olds Legion on Sat., April 1.

Described as a dedicated coach, who always put the interest of the players in front of his own by Grizzlys' president Hugh Bodmer, Van Hereweghe is leaving the Grizzlys with mixed emotions.

According to Van Hereweghe, his decision to step down as head coach was not an easy task.

"Right now, I feel it is the best decision for everyone involved," added Van Hereweghe, who guided the Grizzlys for three years as head coach.

"I have been with the Grizzlys for seven years in different capacities and I definitely will miss being involved on a day to day basis with the team," noted Van Hereweghe indicating he has enjoyed his association with the club.

During his time with the Grizzlys, Van Hereweghe has served as general manager, head coach, assistant coach and director of scouting.

"Although I have stepped down as the head coach, I will be available to assist the team in any capacity," he said.

Besides coaching in the Alberta Junior Hockey League, Van Hereweghe has been associated with the Western Hockey League as an assistant coach. His involvement with hockey in the area began in Crossfield as a minor hockey coach. He later moved to Carstairs, where he was coach of the Carstairs Pee Wee AA and the Midget AA Bruins.

"Probably my fondest memory of coaching hockey within this area was to have the opportunity of coaching several players in minor hockey and then later coach them when they were members of the Grizzlys," Van Hereweghe explained.

According to Van Hereweghe, the most rewarding aspect about being a coach at the Junior hockey level was to have the opportunity of seeing the players come into their first camp as teen agers and afterwards leave the team as young adults.

"To be a part of this development of these young men, not only as hockey players but as adolescents, is something I will definitely miss," Van Hereweghe noted.

On the ice, Van Hereweghe's fondest memories will always be the Grizzlys' Centennial Cup championship, the provincial championships along with the Doyle Cup victories.

While behind the bench of the Grizzlys, Van Hereweghe supported a winning record in league play, guiding the team to a play off berth in all three seasons.

As for play off memories, Van Hereweghe will always remember the series with the Canucks, losing to them last year in the division final and then knocking off the defending champions this year in post season play.

"In everything I did as a coach, I was always supported by the Grizzlys' executive and for this I want to thank them," concluded Van Hereweghe.

When the executive names a new head coach, the new bench boss will be inheriting a part of the Van Hereweghe legacy.

OBITUARY

RAY: Glenn Estes Ray passed away at the Didsbury Hospital March 25, 2000 at the age of 91 years. Glenn was born on his parents homestead in the Garfield district west of Carstairs, May 21, 1908. On August 24, 1929, Glenn married Lillie Larson and shortly after moved to northern B.C. where they farmed until 1935. They returned to Alberta to farm in the Garfield district until 1945, when they moved to the farm in the Rugby district where they resided until 1987 at which time they moved to Didsbury. Glenn is survived by his wife of 70 years, Lillie; 2 sons, Leon (Doris) of Fraser Lake, BC; Cecil (Barbara) of Red Deer; 1 daughter, Doreen (Fred) Allen of Carstairs; 1 sister, Hazel Youngs of Carstairs; 15 grandchildren; 29 great-grandchildren; 1 great-great-grandchild and numerous nieces and nephews. He was predeceased by one son, Gale and one daughter, Carol Bellamy; 4 brothers, Lloyd, Ivan, Jesse and Howard; 4 sisters, Molly, Edna, Eva and Carol. Memorial services were held on Wednesday, March 29, 2000 at 2:00 p.m. from the Knox United Church, Didsbury with Reverend Malcolm Profit officiating. Memorial tributes may be made directly to the charity of one's choice. Mountain View Funeral Chapels, Didsbury, entrusted with arrangements. 403-335-4773.
